

SUMMARY OF ANNEX 13_CAREER PATHS FOR THE GRADUATES

The University of Education Indonesia consistently monitors and supports the career development of its graduates through a tracer study system and alumni career development services.

Tracer Study Reports by Study Program

UPI conducts annual tracer studies to determine the career paths and achievements of its graduates, including the percentage of graduates working in their field, the length of time spent waiting for employment, and the relevance of their competencies. (evidence: Tracer Study Analysis Report)

Alumni Career Development Services

Through the Career Development Center (CDC) at UPI, the university provides career counseling, job skills training, job vacancy information, and industry connections for alumni. Detailed information is available on the website <https://cdc.upi.edu/>